RACING TO INTEGRITY

Thanks for racing to Indianapolis and ICAI's 31st International Conference, and our first in-person conference since 2020! While the virtual conferences were fantastic in 2021 and 2022, we are so excited for the opportunity to see old friends and meet new ones.

As you enjoy the conference, once again, we call on you to bring your time and talent to ICAI. Your efforts can help students, faculty, and institutions create authentic learning experiences around the world. The board and I invite each of you to take part by contributing to our blog, attending (or even hosting) a regional conference, and joining one of our leadership committees. These teams of members guide ICAI's efforts in research, advocacy, conference planning, content creation and outreach and we need you! Ask any board member for more information about how to get involved.

The Conference Committee (Amanda McKenzie from University of Waterloo, Christian Moriarty from St. Petersburg College, Dawn Lesperance from Lewis Clark State College, Chris Bryson from University of Arkansas, Patricia Meyer from DeVry University, and Jennie Miron from Humber Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning) has done a tremendous job in creating this conference experience for both those who are joining in Indy and those who are only joining virtual. Special thanks to Dawn Lesperance for her leadership of the program proposal and selection process.

A couple things on the schedule to pay attention to. First, you will see that some sessions are for those individuals who are only in Indianapolis, some sessions are being presented in Indy but are live streamed for our virtual audience, and another track of sessions are running virtual only. Those virtual only sessions will have recordings available even after the conference. Second, following the success of our last two in person conferences, our Friday dinner will be held at restaurants throughout Indianapolis (within walking distance of the hotel) through the ICAI Dine-Around. If you haven't signed up already, you still can do so at the conference registration desk.

For those of you attending for the first time, we welcome you to ICAI, and for those returning, we're happy to see you.

Sincerely,

Camilla J. Roberts
